We guarantee your satisfaction for all products sold under our establishment number (USDA Est. 6765). If there is a reasonable and identifiable problem, we'll refund or exchange any unprepared product

The Wichita Quality Promise

Great meals result from the best natural ingredients and the foodservice community's farm-to-table commitment. As a member of this community, we embrace technology and forward progress in housing, health management, care, and slaughter of the animals that provide the raw materials for all Wichita Packing Company products. We diligently source all raw materials only from companies equally committed to quality - those that are as focused as we are on animal genetics, animal inputs, sustainability practices, and workmanship. To ensure compliance, we subject all our products to both our own and third party audits. As a result, we're able to provide you with the safest, highest quality, and most satisfying BBQ meats on the market.
